

Pam Sran concentrates her practice on complex business litigation, with a focus on commercial disputes, class action defense, arbitrations, product liability, and securities litigation. Pam has experience successfully managing litigation matters across various state and federal jurisdictions representing a broad range of clients.

Combined with her experience as a member of an in-house commercial litigation group for a Fortune 200 company, Pam serves as a strategic advisor to her clients, focusing on producing efficient solutions to complex legal issues that align with the client's primary goals and business priorities.

Before joining Gair Eberhard Nelson Dedinas Ltd, Pam was a complex commercial litigation associate at a global law firm, where she handled a variety of matters involving business disputes. Pam also served as in-house counsel for a multinational fast food corporation, where she consulted on international and domestic commercial litigation matters and managed e-discovery teams in connection with internal investigations.

Pam obtained her J.D. from University of Illinois College of Law, where she served as Managing Editor of the University of Illinois Journal of Law, Technology and Policy. During law school, Pam served as a judicial extern for the Honorable LaShonda A. Hunt in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois and clerked for a boutique law firm focused on litigation. While working for her law school's Community Preservation Mortgage Foreclosure Clinic, Pam represented clients in mediation conferences and state court as a student attorney. She also worked as a law clerk for the legal department of a Chicago-based mortgage lending and financial services company, and as a litigation extern at a multinational risk and insurance brokerage consulting firm.

Before law school, Pam served as a judicial intern for the Honorable Rafael A. Arreola (Ret.) in the Superior Court of California, County of San Diego. She also served as a congressional intern to the Honorable Nancy Pelosi, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, in her Washington D.C. office.

Pam currently serves as vice chair of the Chicago Bar Association's Business Law Litigation Committee. Additionally, Pam serves on the Board of Directors of the South Asian Bar Association of Chicago. She also maintains an active pro bono practice and has served as a volunteer attorney with a variety of local and national organizations. In her free time, Pam enjoys hiking, cooking, traveling, and playing the piano.
